J. D. Turney, 71, Buried At Hanover After Death Monday

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at Liberty Church in Hanover Community for J. D. Turney, 71, who died at his home 6 a.m. Monday in Hanover.

The Rev. E. J. Davis, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Cameron, conducted the services. Interment followed in the Liberty Cemetery with the Milano Masonic Lodge conducting graveside services.

Turney, a life-long resident of Milam County, was born Nov. 28, 1885. He farmed and ranched all his life. His parents were pioneer settlers of Milam County.

He was a member of the Milano Masonic Lodge.

Survivors are: his wife, Mrs. Beulah Miller Turney; a daughter Mrs. Alvin Roberts, Vernon; two sisters, Mrs. Kate Lantrip, Lake Charles, La., and Mrs. Faye Lankford, Dallas; and two grandsons.

Pallbearers were Joe Bullock, Joe Robinson, Charles Robinson, Alex Black, G. C. Billy Lantrip, Paul Miller and Reuben Wise.

E&R Church Installs Organ Equipment At Ben Arnold

A new Hammond organ, two hi-fi speakers and a microphone have been installed in the United Evangelical & Reform Church, Ben Arnold.

The Rev. Gerald R. Cobb last weekend visited his folks in northeastern Pennsylvania. Mrs. Cobb filled the pulpit, speaking on the title: "Mother, Behold Your Calling."

During the service a corsage of red carnations went to Mrs. J. C. Komar, Cameron, the youngest mother present. Also receiving a corsage was Church Organist Mrs. Bobbie Kalkbrenner.

A white carnation corsage went to Mrs. E. T. Scheider, Rt. 1, Burlington, as the oldest mother present.

Howard, Burkes Buy Bartlett Concern

A Bartlett hardware and implement store has been purchased by E. J. Burkes and J. Max Howard, Cameron businessmen.

The Beair-Gullespie Co., has been a Bartlett hardware and implement concern for more than 50 years.

The new owners are improving the facilities and rearranging stock. They will maintain an equipment repair shop, they said.

Guardsmen Fire For Record Score During Weekend At Fort Hood

The officers and men of Battery C, along with other units of the 649th Anti-Aircraft Artilley Battalion, spent the week-end of May 4 and 5 on the rifle range at Fort Hood firing for record with carbines, the local Nation Guard unit reported today.

Although weather conditions were wet and cold during most of the two days, Guardsmen chalked up a number of high scores.

Twenty members of Batty C qualified as expert. Top score in the Battery was made by CWO Eugene A. Mees, who turned in a score of 155 out of a possible 160.

Others making expert included: Sfc. Charles A. Brady, Jr., Paul L. Sheguit, Sgt. Donald W. Culp, Leo L. Kostiha, William W. Marek, Donald E. Shuffield, James M. Thompson, SP2 Louis A. Krenek, SF3 John R. Caffey, John A. Culp, Billy F. Dodson, Henry C. Hubnik, Joseph D. Kostroun, Rudolph A. Tepera, Pfc. Alvin W. Baggerly, Johnny C. Gelner, Daniel A. Mitcham, Pvt. Kenneth C. Cryer and Howard S. Drummond.

Thirty Guardsmen qualified as sharpeshooter, and nineteen as marksmen.

The Guardsmen made the trip from Cameron to Fort Hood in their own vehicles. They bivouaced in the field overnight several hundred yards behind the rifle range, sleeping in pup tents, and were fed in field kitchens operated by their mess sections.

Reporting on other recent developments, Battery C said that one of its members, Sgt. Clifford T. Boswell, attended a Communications School course during the week-end of May 4-5. The two-day school was held at Love Field, Dallas.

The unit also reported that another member was added to its rolls this week. He is SF3 Walter D. Gommert, formerly with the battery, who recently completed a tour of active duty with the Army, and returned to Cameron after seperation.

Ball Playing

(Shirley Donaho, Burlington school fifth grader, has written her interpretation of what could be considered a team version of the famous "Casey At Bat." She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Donaho, Burlington. Her teacher is Mrs. J. D. Martin. —Ed.)

We went to a town
To play some ball,
We got out of the cars
And that's all.

We looked at the other players
One by one,
Then we knew the other side
Had already won.

They got town,
We got field.
All of our players
Began to get ill.

They'd hit the ball
So far in the sky,
I'd look at it,
Then almost cry.

We got in town,
We were so glad.
But when we got up to bat,
We began to get sad.

I got up to bat
And one, two, three,
They had already called
An out on me.

The next batter
Got up and hit a fly.
A boy caught it,
The batter cried.

Finally the game was over,
They had won all right.
At least we did
Put up a fight.

On the way back home, we stopped at a store.

I bought one bottle
Of sodawater 'cause I
Could drink no more.

That's how the ballgame ended.
But that wasn't all.
Cause I dreamed of that old
Ballgame every single night.

Cameron 'Exes' To Play Milano Sunday Here

The Cameron "Exes" will play a baseball squad from Milano here Sunday in the first game of the season for the local team.

Catcher John Florida told The Herald the squad now numbers about 15 members who he terms are rounding out into a fine club.

The Exes played in an area loop last year, finishing in third place.

Last Sunday they were scheduled to play Sharp, but only three Sharp players turned out for the game here. Florida said Saturday night rains apparently discouraged the whole team from appearing.

But the Exes split their roster and served up a seven-inning practice with a team headed by Pitchers Carrol Green and Forrest Sapp getting the edge 5-4. Pitcher Eddie Garret held opposing hitters to a 4-1 deficit until late in the game when they clustered some singles for the game.

Highway Patrolman and Mrs. John Blansit are spending the current two weeks visiting in Hamilton while on his annual vacation.

Make Service Plans Now, Army Recruiter Advises Graduates

Now is the time for 1957 school graduates in Cameron to make plans and reservations for their future endeavors according to, Sfc. Leo A. Dermody, Army recruiter here.

Many 1957 graduates have made reservations already at the college of their choice, and many others are learning that they can oontinue scholastic and technical training with the United States Army in a "Reserved For You" program that guarantees enlistees a place in one of the army's technical schools.

High school graduates have the opportunity to choose from a list of over 150 technical courses. These technical courses vary in duration from 16 weeks to 52 weeks. Many of the courses offered to graduates have college credit evaluation and these credits can be transferred to a civilian institution of their choice upon expiration of their military service, should they desire to attend college.

Graduates who make application to participate in the "Reserved For You" program will receive from The Adjutant General an official letter stating that the graduate has been accepted for the technical course of his choice.

70 More Working At Alcoa In '57

A story in the April issue of Alcoa's Rockdale Ranger points out that Alcoa employs 70 more employees at the Milam County plant than a year ago.

The story quoted from a company survey which listed 1,622 employees, 146 of which are living in Cameron.

Heaviest concentration of employee-residents is in Rockdale where 659 are living, according to the story. Thorndale follows with 160, then Taylor follows closely behind Cameron with 135.

Of the total 1,236 are employed in the Alcoa plant, 386 for the Industrial Generating Co. which furnished power for the plant.

Other county communities and number of Alcoa workers residing there are: Milano 54, Dime Box 15 and Buckholts 12.

Wilson To Construct Big Grain Elevators

The "Old R. L. Batte Round Bale Gin acre" property was sold this week to Herndon B. Wilson by Robert Weems, Cameron, where the Wilson family will construct new grain elevators.

The site is on East First St. across the Santa Fe tracks from the Cameron Ice Co.

The Wilson family will put in modern grain elevators with storage bins, feed grinding, and molasses mills, recleaning machinery and a $15,000 pelleting machine.

Other equipment will include crimping machines for the feed mill and elevator.

The plant will cost an estimated $147,000 to build, Wilson said. Work on the storage bins will begin as soon as weather permits while the feed plan will follow completion of the bins.

The metal storage bins will measure 21.5 feet in diameter and 48.5 feet in height. The elevator leg will be 90 feet high with a capacity of about 3,000 bushels per hour.

Total bin capacity will be about nine million pounds in the metal and concrete, fireproof plant. Storage capacity will be about 20 percent of total Milam County grain production in a good crop year, Wilson continued.

Plant equipment also will include an automatic unloader which will unload grain trucks in a few minutes, Wilson said.

He will operate storage facilities as a bonded warehouse and store grain as well as buy and sell it.

The concern, he said, will produce its own brand of chicken, hog and cattle feed including feeds in pellet form. No brand name has yet been selected.

The Wilson family, currently operating the Wilson Produce Co., will celebrate its 53rd year in dealing in farmers' produce next September.

the TRUE STORY about an industry

THIS is the first in a series of messages which will bring you the story of the Brewing Industry in Texas. There are many parts of that story. These messages will be an effort to present the facts about an industry that plays an important part in the Texas scene, and which has been part of man's life since the first recorded history

To sum up, here is a quotation from a brochure on the Self Regulation program of the United States Brewers Foundation Inc.:

"The Foundation is dedicated to the belief that the legal sale of beer and ale, under wholesome conditions, is a definite contribution to society and is in the public interest.

The purpose of the United States Brewers Foundation, whose members produce the nation's malt beverage output, is to help maintain sound conditions in every place where beer is sold. This necessarily means close cooperation with law enforcement authorities, with brewers, wholesalers, retailers and the general public."

World experience has shown that where the consumption of beer has been recognized as socially acceptable, moderation has been the rule. Temperance and moderation lie behind every minute of work by the Foundation, and this work is done with the brewer, wholesaler, retailer, and also with you, the public.

The futility of prohibition has been shown once in this country's history. The success of moderation has been shown through history. The Foundation's aim is to work toward the end that moderation shall be accepted by everyone. Such work comes under our Self Regulation Program.

The Texas Division of the United States Brewers Foundation will also bring you the story of the importance of the Brewing Industry to Texas. And, the messages in the weeks to come will highlight the part beer plays in your daily life.
